About Us:

Porter Diving is a small, family-owned business that is based in Morro Bay, CA. Porter Diving includes commercial divers who specialize in anything in regards to underwater services. Porter Divings' main audience and market is for power plants since they are mainly based at Diablo Canyon in PG&E.

Yet, they aren't limited to just Power Plants since their market also includes services for wineries and those with agriculture. Porter Diving extends and offers their services to anyone who has a problem underwater that needs a commercial diver to fix it. Those services can also include things like inspecting pipelines for the state, water tanks, and sunken boats.
